

WOMEN LEADING IN EDUCATION SOUTH WEST NETWORK

CHALLENGING CONVENTIONAL WORKING PATTERNS IN EDUCATION

23 November 2021, 16.30 – 18.00hrs
Malmesbury School

Malmesbury School (Flexible Working Ambassador School for the South West) is delighted to support this Women Leading in Education South West's event.

Featuring keynote speakers:

Sarah Haines, Headteacher, Bradon Forest School
'Leading a Flexible Working Culture'

Gemma Drinkall, Educational Wellbeing Coach, Headsphere
'Teachers: how to thrive and love your job again'

This will be followed by a panel discussion supported by Athelstan Trust colleagues sharing their flexible working stories.

Gemma Drinkall

Sarah Haines

To book your place, please follow click here

